Document review is the most expensive and time-consuming component of any eDiscovery exercise. Seventy-three percent of all eDiscovery expenses are related to review,¹ with larger and more varied data sets driving the price tag even higher. To combat the escalating expense of document review, corporations and their outside counsel seek approaches that lower costs without sacrificing quality, timeliness or defensibility.

Consilio meets these demands with three Document Review Services: Staffing, Coordinated Review and Comprehensive Managed Review. Each option provides instant access to our global network of thousands of prescreened legal professionals as well as expert recruiters capable of quickly staffing the review with the right resources. Review location is flexible—clients can choose from any of our review centers, utilize their own space or opt to use an on-demand review center, a temporary location that meets the matter’s requirements. Plus, clients can choose the amount of review oversight needed for the matter.

WHY CHOOSE CONSILIO?

COORDINATED REVIEW

Recruiters and Coordinators to Maintain Quality & Review Control

With this solution, clients leverage the experience of expert recruiters and review coordinators while maintaining control over the review workflow. Tapping into Consilio’s expert staff for guidance on best practices, consistent communication, customized reports on review progress and administration of quality control protocols, Coordinated Review offers flexible service options to fit any project budget.

COMPREHENSIVE MANAGED REVIEW

A Complete Document Review Service Solution

The highest level of Document Review service available, this inclusive end-to-end service leverages Consilio’s experienced review managers, advanced technologies and best practices. Clients can choose from flexible pricing options that deliver predictability to the otherwise uncertain eDiscovery review process, either selecting the service a la carte or bundling it with our unique V3locity® offering—where Consilio manages the entire eDiscovery process, and you only pay for the documents sent to review.

Working at the client’s direction, Consilio will assign a dedicated review manager who will handle all facets of the review. Consilio will also oversee the application of its innovative quality-management process designed to leverage technology, identify potential errors effectively and provide real-time feedback to review team members on their coding decisions. Review managers provide daily reports to provide full transparency into the review process and results, as well as adhere to the communication protocol agreed to at the outset of the matter. Under the oversight of a designated senior sponsor, the Consilio team will deliver a set of expertly reviewed documents to meet your deadline.
