Case Study: Large Opioid Matter Response

The Issue

A large pharmaceutical manufacturer was the defendant in a class action opioid matter that would involve a significant amount of electronically stored information (ESI). Specifics of the industry and distribution processes required specialized culling techniques, as well as sourcing subject-matter qualified attorneys to coordinate an effective review.

Our Approach

Consilio helped identify multiple custodians based on the parameters of the case, then preserved and collected over twelve terabytes of data using remote and on-site collection tools. Consilio created a managed review protocol to review approximately 250,000 records, culled using advanced analytics techniques and utilizing over a dozen subject-matter qualified attorneys and a review manager.

The Result

Consilio's experienced data operations, project management, and review teams coordinated with multiple co-counsel and meet aggressive production schedules delivering between 50 and 100 productions of various sizes per matter with several concurrent deliveries per week.

Why Choose Consilio?
